Whats new in the Vineyard

The summer of 2022 was one to remember. We had a late bud break and flowering after wettest April on record..Fortunately a warm summer helped get us back on track. This will go down as one of the hottest summers ever at Lenné.

It is still too early to tell what this vintage will produce but unless we get any dramatic weather events, we should have a wonderful year with lower yields. We anticipate harvest to start towards the middle to end of the second week of October.
