Whats new in the Vineyard

The summer of 2019 was moderate in terms of the weather. We saw less than average temperatures above 90 degrees. If the weather holds out we should make some beautiful wine. The vineyard work is done for the year and we are waiting for harvest.

Preparing for harvest means getting grape bins washed and ready as well as all of the other equipment in the winery. Harvest at Lenné is all done by hand and usually involves three or four picks spread out over 10 days. We anticipate harvest to start around the 20th of September.
